

Autumn/Winter 2016-2017 | Maple Sun

We are returning to the beach once more before we say goodbye to summer. The wind still carries the soothing smell of salt and seaweed. A bouquet of blooming flowers, it is the last of the season; reminisce the sweetness of the warm sunny days. Under the maple sun, the autumn colors will look livelier and more opulent. Autumn steps into the stage turning it into a vibrant rhapsody of colors. The richness of this moment makes our heart beat wild as if it is a bird waiting to escape to freedom.
